EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

GENERAL INFORMATION

Benefits and contributions to benefit plans are not offered by Omega Business Solutions, Inc. For details regarding any applicable benefits package, please refer to the benefits offered by the client company.

MILITARY RESERVE/NATIONAL GUARD TRAINING OR ARMED FORCES ACTIVE DUTY LEAVE

If you are a member of the Reserve or National Guard and you are called upon to perform periodic training or you enlist or are drafted by the U.S. Armed Forces, you will be granted an unpaid military leave of absence in accordance with the federal and/or state legislation for the time required. During a military leave, you are entitled to continuation of benefits, and job reinstatement or re-employment in accordance with federal and state laws. You should give your Manager as much advance notice as possible of your intent to be away by providing us with a copy of your orders as soon as possible.

If you wish, you may take your normal vacation during this time, but this is not required.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Family and Medical Leave

Under certain circumstances you may be eligible for Family and Medical Leave. When you need extended time away from work because of the birth or placement for adoption or foster care of a child; because of the serious health condition of a spouse, child, or parent; or because of your own serious health condition, discuss the matter with your Manager. If you have been employed for at least twelve (12) months and worked 1150 hours in the past year, you may be granted unpaid leave of up to twelve (12) weeks, within a twelve (12) month period. The twelve (12) month period is measured forward from the date an employee's first leave begins. This leave must be approved by your Manager. You will be required to use all accrued unused vacation and/or sick time as part of the leave at the beginning of the leave. As soon as you become aware of the need for a leave, you must inform your Manager so that proper arrangements can be made. If the leave is for the birth or placement of adoption or foster care of a child, it must be taken within 12 months of the birth or placement and may be taken intermittently only with the approval of management. If the leave is due to your own serious illness or that of a family member, the leave time may be taken intermittently, within a twelve (12) month period, if medically necessary (medical certification is required in this case). In this case, the Company may temporarily transfer you to an alternative position that better accommodates the recurring periods of leave. Upon your request for leave due to your own serious illness or that of a family member you may be required to provide certification of the health condition. This certification must include the date on which the serious health condition in question began; the probable duration of the condition; appropriate medical facts regarding the condition; and a statement that you are needed to care for a spouse, parent, or child (along with an estimate of the time required), or that you are unable to perform your job functions. The employee will need to obtain a written doctor's release in order to be reinstated in their position. Paid holidays are not provided to employees who are on an unpaid leave and vacation and sick time does not accrue during an unpaid leave of absence. If you return to work by the predetermined return date, you will be reinstated in your previous position or an equivalent position with no loss of benefits that had accrued at the commencement of the leave. When you return to work, if your leave was due to your own serious health condition, you must provide the Company with medical certification verifying your ability to return to work. Your leave shall run concurrently with a workers' compensation absence when the on the job injury is one that meets the criteria for a serious health condition.

SOCIAL SECURITY RETIREMENT SYSTEM

You may receive a lifetime monthly pension based upon earnings and the number of years you are covered under the Social Security Act. In addition to the amount you have deducted from your paycheck, the Company also matches your deduction dollar for dollar and pays into your social security account. You are encouraged to check your social security record every few years to make certain that deductions have been correctly reported and credited to your account. The Social Security Office provides free postcards for this purpose.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

The Company pays the entire cost of unemployment compensation insurance to provide a benefit to you in the unlikely event of lay-off. If it were necessary for you to be laid-off, you would receive a weekly benefit for a specified period of time while you search for other employment. This benefit is designed to help prevent the financial hardship of unemployment.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

When an on-the-job accident is determined to be in the course and scope of your employment, workers' compensation insurance covers the cost for your medical expenses and hospital care plus compensation for lost wages, in accordance with the laws of the state.

The Company pays the entire cost of this benefit. All injuries, no matter how superficial they may appear, must be reported immediately to your Manager. Failure to report an accident may result in a loss of benefits. In the event that you suffer an injury on the job that requires referral for medical treatment you may be required to submit to a substance abuse test. Furthermore, your family and medical leave shall run concurrently with a workers' compensation absence when the on the job injury is one that meets the criteria for a serious health condition.

In the event of an accident on-the-job that requires medical treatment and when the injury appears to be life threatening, you should be taken to a hospital emergency room. For a less serious injury, an emergency primary care center designated by the Company should be used. All employees must report any claims immediately and no later than 24 hours to their immediate supervisor. All paperwork will be supplied by their employer and completed in full to provide medical treatment. Employees also agree to a post accident drug test, at the expense of Omega Business Solutions, Inc. Failure to take the drug test may be grounds for denial of the claim per state law.
